VI. Special Presentations

Budget Review Committee – Student Organizations Operational Fund (SOOF)

- Diem Tran told Council that 123 groups had applied for the Student Organizations Operational Fund, with $492,933.56 requested, and $57,607.00 recommended for allocation. Following Tran’s report, individual members of the Budget Review Committee reported on various elements of the funding process.

- Tran started by giving a comprehensive overview of the SOOF funding and allocation process. Malik then explained the hearing process in more detail, Villasin explained the deliberation process in greater detail, and Smeets explained the allocation process in greater detail.

- Council engaged in a discussion over the validity and equity of the formula used to determine allocations. One of the matters discussed concerned the fact that certain groups had miscalculated their requested amounts, and the suggestion was made that these groups should be penalized in some way.

- Tran said that groups which miscalculate their requested amounts are marked down a few points by the Committee.

- Council then entered into a discussion regarding the maximum funding a group could request, the maximum being $4,000 and the minimum being $1,000. The point was raised that this gap should be reduced due to the fact that groups who did not request the maximum amount, or something near the maximum, were punished and received lower allocations not because they received a lower score but because they had not requested an amount in the maximum range. For that reason, it was suggested that the amount should be lowered to $1,000 which is what the majority of the groups had requested.

- It was argued that, if the amount remained at $4,000, groups would apply for the maximum amount regardless of their financial needs just to avoid having their requested amount reduced unfairly. The BRC replied that this would be evident in their application and then reflected in their point total.

- Tran said that she did not believe that these groups were being punished for not requesting a lot of money. She said their need is evidently not as great as more established groups. If their needs are not as great as the more established groups then they should not request a larger amount of money than they need.

- Members of the BRC said that if they don’t allow for variance between the minimum and maximum requests, then every group would be allocated the same amount regardless of the scoring process.

- Smeets said that he would refrain from voting in favor of this motion as he would prefer to look at all the calculations in order to make his decision.

- Doan said that if a group miscalculates their request, she thought the requested amount they submit should be regarded as their Cap, saying she thought this was a better process than punishing the group with point deductions.

- Tran and other members of the BRC reminded Council that this was the first time that they were dealing with the SOOF funding process, so they thought it was not surprising that they had run into some problems. BRC members felt that these problems could be addressed at the de-briefing meeting where they could look at the process and improve it. They said they realized that the formula they were using now could be improved, but said they felt it was good enough for what they needed to achieve at this time.

- At the conclusion of the discussion on the SOOF allocation formula, it was agreed that Neesby, with the assistance of Jerry Mann and Bob Williams, would rework the numbers.

- Pham moved and Biniek seconded to approve the Student Organizations Operational Fund Allocation Recommendations.
- Council voted to approve the Student Organizations Operational Fund Allocation Recommendations with a vote of 7 in favor, 1 opposed, and 3 abstentions.

VII. Fund Allocations

Villasin said that, in addition, she had allocated $1,020.00 through her discretionary authorization. She said that, if Council approves FiCom’s recommendations, the remaining balance in the Contingency Fund will be $43,585.63.
- Biniek moved and Neesby seconded to approve the Finance Committee’s Contingency Fund Allocation Recommendations.
