VIII. Officer and Member Reports

President – Cinthia Flores

-Flores has is continuing efforts with Janina Montero to secure a manual for the deferred payment plan. She will meet tomorrow with Farmer and others with Janina Montero to solidify plans for the program. This program would give a certain amount of students an option of deferred payment. Flores also attended the University of California Commission on the Future this past weekend, and cited discussions of the shape and size of the UC system, as well as the possibility of enrollment cuts. Flores said that the only problematic issue was that audience members were not able to participate. Karen Bass will be speaking on January 16th, but Flores has still not secured the logistics behind the discussion. She is waiting until Governor Schwarzenegger introduces his first version of the state budget to allow Bass time to gain a deeper understanding of all proposed items. She said that planners are also opening up the discussion to several other members of the state assembly, and she is working to decide how students will participate.

Internal Vice President – Shahida Bawa

-Bawa said that she met with Deb Geller two weeks ago to discuss the Student Code of Conduct. She said that some of the more highly contentious issues involve having lawyers present in cases of academic honesty. The issue will not be a part of this year’s renegotiated code. If council has any other requests or inquiries, Bawa will serve as liaison between the conduct committee. She said that committee is outreaching for student voice regarding hate-related issues. She also met with the planning committee for commencement ceremonies. The committee is trying to establish traditions for singers, and is looking for requests for graduation keynote speakers. The singer and student speaker will be a part of the graduating class.
Academic Affairs Commissioner—Layhannara Tep

-Tep met with Judith Smith last week, and will meet again on Thursday to discuss the Challenge 45 proposal. She also discussed concerns raised regarding the International Development Studies major. The program has until June 2010 to review recommendations from the Undergraduate Council to lift the suspension in place. Suspensions of this sort have occurred in the past, but Smith said that it seems that the IDS department is putting a good effort to reshape the program. It is possible to keep the major as a part of the curriculum. Tep also discussed the possibility of gaining academic credit for specific leadership opportunities on campus. Tep also mentioned the possibility of Challenge 45 affecting the status of newer majors. She will have more updates at the next council meeting.
